

Sacraments „Adaptation” to the Needs of the Present Life

Fr. IONUȚ CONSTANTIN,
University of Bucharest,

Abstract

It can be said that the sacraments are not works of men, but are works of God to people. This man acquires through sanctifying grace, which is vital for the salvation of soul. If curtailed or omitted from the prayers of these sacraments, their spiritual value diminishes as each prayer has rubrics for her role in the ordinance of baptism, or a stack of Marriage. The human person when it comes to the church of Christ to receive the grace of the sacraments, must be freed from all care, and open on prayer, because these moments are moments when he meets the mysterious Savior. Contemporary man must be patient, because the role is merely directing sacraments to the Kingdom of Heaven, and thus knowing how important this stake, the 45- 60 minutes elapsing of his time, not only for their own benefit people. Prayers Sacraments elevates man fell into everyday care, it departs from „hostile powers”, I go to the meeting with one who was sacrificed for him. Everything that man today, advanced technology and other things are of God, to make them daily work easier, but also because to pick up their mind, and to Him, the Creator of „all things visible and invisible”.